g - Guide SAFE WORKING AT INTERNATIONAL EVENTS

Safe Operations at International Events is a one day course aimed at operatives working in the construction phases on the event floor such as carpet fitters, riggers, stand fitters, fork lift drivers, electricians and AV operatives. At the end of the day they should be aware of their own responsibilities and be able to spot and report hazards common to event work. It can be run as a standalone course or simply as day one of the g-Guide Safe Management at International Events course. In this way clients can train large numbers of operatives and managers together with selected managers progressing to the second day to complete their training. Costs are as follows:

Long haul (from UK) £2,500 plus £25 per delegate.
Europe £1,700 plus £25 per delegate.

UK £1,550 plus £25 per delegate.
Online £840 plus £25 per delegate.

Reduced rates are available if this is delivered as part of a package of other training run sequentially. Online costs based on running an abridged version from the client's UK offices over half a day.

Course Overview. The Course Modules are:

- ▶ Module 1 - Why Health and Safety is Important, Health and Safety Law, Relevant Guidance and Policy
- ▶ Module 2 - Personal Safety Overview
- ▶ Module 3 - Common Hazards

Successful delegates will be awarded a photo ID certficard.

X-Venture is the preferred training provider for a large part of the events industry from niche organisations up to the most high-profile global event companies offering courses which are designed for the international market as well as for UK based event companies. From our consultancy and operational work with a wide range of organisers, high footfall venues, event contractors and local authorities we have built up a unique understanding of the industry. Our trainers are all event managers by instinct as well as health, safety and security specialists. Our courses are truly bespoke to the industry, covering the exhibitions (B2B and B2C), entertainment and sports sectors. All our courses are updated at least every 6 months to reflect changes in the law and operational practice. The course director Simon Garrett is a Chartered Fellow of IOSH, and the International Institute of Risk and Safety Management who has worked with event companies on projects and training in the UK, Europe, Africa, Asia, South East Asia and the Americas.
